SAN ANTONIO TAKES PAIR FROM GALVESTON; CATS DEFEAT STEERS

Associated Press Sports Writer.)
It is getting to be a difficult proposition to make a switch in the first division standing of the Texas league pennant marathon. Fort Worth insists on holding their four game lead. Beaumont continues to stay a game in front of Houston, and Dallas continues to rest in fourth place, pressing Houston for third

The Exporters accomplished a couple of things Sunday that probably made Del Baker feel proud of his boys. In the first place, Manager Baker's Exporters de feated Houston 5 to 2 to take a full game lead for second place, Second, they handed Dizzy Dean his second defeat this season. Dizzy, who won five straight after returning from the Cardinals, has lost his last two starts, one to Fort Worth and one to Beaumont.

Sports Beat Spudders.

Jakie Atz's Shreveport Sports invaded Wichita Falls with plenty of hits in their bats. Featured by home runs by Winegarner, third baseman, and Geygan, second baseman, the Sports trimmed the Spudders, 8 to 5. Oscar Tuero, whose spitballs won twenty games for Shreveport last season, went the route against the Spudders.

Playing at Galveston, the San Antonio Indians put a couple of wins to their credit by defeating the Pirates, 2 to 0, and 2 to 0. In the opener, the Buccaneers were held to four hits by Hobo Carson. In the nightcap, Flynn allowed Galveston three hits.

ODD FELLOWS HOME GRADUATES ARE TOLD OWE MUCH TO WORLD

REV. J. L. HINES DELIVERED GRADUATING SERMON SUNDAY MORNING

Members of the graduating class of the Odd Fellows Home

class of the Odd Fellows Home were told that they were heavily indebted to the world and that the world owes them nothing by Rev. John L. Hines, pastor of the Church of Christ at the annuel realaureate exercises Sunday Thing.

The hymn, "Holy, Holy, Holy," sung by members of the girls glee club with Miss Margaret Christie at the plano, was the processional by which the eight bovs and eight girls comprising the graduating class marched into the boys and eight girls comprising the graduating class marched into the auditorium and took a reserved section. They were followed by members of the faculty. *Ross Harris, superintendent of the Home, pronounced the invocation. Miss Margot Davidson and Florine Buckalaw were presented in a duet, "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," accompanied by Miss Christie.

in a duet, "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," accompanied by Miss Christle, Rev. Hines read a passage of Scripture, Romans 1:8-17, from which he took as a text, "I Am a Debtor." The minister declared that he appreciated the invitation to participate in the exercises, having been convinced years ago of the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. He asserted that each person left an influence behind them for coming generations.

Each person is a debtor to the world, he declared. No one is unable to live in a world of beauty without thinking of heaven. He told members of the graduating class that they were going into a new world as debtors; they owe the world much, and the world owes them little.

Rev. Hines asserted that he realized that the world owed him nothing, but rather he was indebted to the world for everything that he had, and that each person is faced with a short time in which to repay the obligation.

Paul Accepted Responsibilities.

Paul admitted his indebtedness both to Greek and barbarian, the speaker asserted, even thugh he was well educated and zealously religious; he accepted his responsibilities and served diligently.

Man cannot be true to himself unless he is true to his conscience.

Man cannot be true to himself unless he is true to his conscience, he continued: the conscience must be educated, and then if the spirit is right, man is right.

It is right, man is right.

A literary education is not sufficient, Rev. Hines told the graduates, but the spiritual must be served as well. He called attention to Paul's willingness to accept the truth, no matter what the source.

cept the truth, no matter what the source.

Paul was severely persecuted, the minister pointed out, but no boy or girl can expect to go through life wihout persecutions and trouble, for just as thorns accompany the beautiful rose, so trouble follows life. Many blessings are in store for each individual but trouble must also come to ual, but trouble must also come to ual, but trouble must also come to them.

The alm of every graduate should be to go through life and then be able to say with Paul, "I have fought a good fight, I have raished my course, I have kept gaith," and then to hear well done, thou good and faithful servant. Enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

At the conclusion of the sermon, a girl's octette sang "I Would Be True." Rev. Hines pronounced the benediction.

"Oh. Come All Ye Faithful" was played as a recessional by Miss Christie.

NEW SUIT FILED AGAINST MORTGAGE COMPANY IN MAINE

PORTLAND, Maine, May 25.—
(P)—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy against the American Bond & Mortgage company, alleging liabilities of more than $5,000,000 was filed in United States district court today.

The company was organized under the laws of Maine and its head offices are in Chicago.

A bill in equality, charging fraud and mismanagement and asking for appointment of a receiver, was filed in the Maine supreme court August 13, 1930. Two weeks ago Chief Justice William R. Pattangall indefinitely postponed the proceedings because of the illness of an attorney for the complaining bond holders.

After the equity suit was filed the company was reorganized.
On April 23 the United States department of justice announced it would conduct a general investigation of the concern because of a "flood of complaints" from stockholders.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON DELIVERED BY FIRST CHRISTIAN MINISTER

Declaring that a man might accumulate great wealth and be accorded high honors by the people and yet be a failure, Rev. Thomas Lenox, pastor of the First Christian church, in the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the State Home Sunday night, admonished them to seek first the kingdom of God and said then these things would be added. "Real Success," was the subject of the Rev. Mr. Lenox and it was based on the latter portion of the sixth chapter of Matthew which included the admonition to seek first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. The minister said that he wished to speak of the things that the class would encounter in their lives and immediately launched into a discussion of the problems of life.

Continuing, the speaker declared that while we are building in this life there are a great many things that are essential but the scripture that has been read in your hearing is the basis for success.

Preparation Necessary
In discussing preparedness the minister said that time spent in preparation for any worthwhile task was not lost. No time, he said, that is spent in preparing for the higher things of life is lost. Many times, he added, time spent in preparation is basis of success. Preparation along certain lines is essential for the completion of the task before us and if we are not prepared failure is almost certain.

WELL FINIS HED ELBOWS

If your elbows are not as good looking as you would like them to be, give them the following simple treatment every day and they will be as perfect as elbows can be. Once you get the habit of treating the elbows like this you will find that it takes no extra time, being merely a part of your daily beauty routine.

Whenever you rub your face with cleansing cream rub the elbows also. If you use almond oil or olive oil as a skin cleanser, this is even better both for comor clive oil as a skin cleanser, this is even better, both for complexion and elbows. Let the cream or oil stay on the elbows as long as possible while you're doing your face or your hair, then wash off with warm water and soap.

them with more cream and wipe this off with a towel or cleansing tissue. If they are not, you can give them a most beautiful finish by rubbing them with good quality vanishing cream, using this as a powder base.

When you want the elbows to look nice and when you are in a hurry, give them a very quick washing with hot water and soap and rub them full of vanishing cream, powdering thickly over this. This treatment takes less than two minutes, it is the best way to make neglected elbows look nice in a hurry, and it is the best finish you can possibly give them if you are putting on a sleeveless evening dress.

Use a white powder on the elbows, even if you use a quite dark brown powder on your face. You will find that your elbows as well as your neck look best if a much lighter colored powder is used. This sounds complicated, but it is not, for you can use white bath powder for both purposes. It is not extravagant to keep several colors of powders in your beauty cupboard.

Norwood Presents Minister.

Mr. Norwood, before presenting the speaker of the evening, pointed out that this was the first program in celebration of graduation time, and that it is entirely fitting for the graduates to have instructions of a spiritual nature before going farther. Here Mr. Norwood announced the remainder or programs for the ensuing week. Before opening his sermon Mr. Hines read Hebrews 11:13, and Ecclesiastes 12, calling special attention in the latter to the words, "Hear God and keep his commandments."

"We are all passengers on a trip from Eternity to Eternity." he said in his opening remarks, "life springs from God, and we return to God only after a very brief span of years here upon this earth, and then we will face Christ at the judgment bar, and give an account of our deeds here. May He say: "Well done my good and faithful servant, ye have been faithful over few, and I will make you ruler over many," and we will continue our life everlasting."

NEW YORK, May 25—(P)—In the view of James A. Ferrell, president of the United States Steel corporation, a period of increasing trade activity is imminent.

Farrell made his predictions last night in a radio address. He urged that 10 per cent of American farm and factory products be exported, but pointed out that business recovery here is not wholly conditional on the solution of problems in other lands.

"If we could solve our own problems," he said, "we should avoid controversies that can have no immediate and practical effects upon American trade. We possess within ourselves the power to lead the world trade recovery. This

"I am convinced that our worst experiences are behind us and that we are gradually entering a period of increasing trade activity. We face the future with greater confidence than in 1914 when our first national foreign trade convention met. Our industrial system had not then reached its present high level of productivity. The foundations of our foreign trade had not been laid. I feel confident that the addresses and discussions, by men of wide practical experiences in foreign trade, will have an encouraging effect upon the future of our overseas commerce, upon which our continued prosperity as a people largely depends."
